

sstt (simplified spatial target tracker) is an augmented reality tracking library for desktop and mobile computers. It integrates with various 3D engines and is capable of using simple graphical symbols for enhancing visual data like print media with registered content.*

* to experience it live use the SSTT Visualizer and point the "Watch" badge into your web camera.

for more information visit technotecture.com